

The Federal Government and Private Grant Foundations issue billions of dollars in grant money to a variety of groups each year. Grants are awarded to individuals each and every day from all walks of life, with large and very small bank accounts, for an ever-increasing array of purposes.

Grant programs are not Loans. You decide how much you need. As long as the amount is lawful and you meet the Foundations and Government Agencies Requirements, the money is yours to keep and never needs to be repaid. This grant money is non-taxable and interest-free!

Grant programs don't require a credit checks, collateral, security deposits or co-signers, you can apply even if you have a declared bankruptcy or have bad credit. You as a tax payer and U.S. citizen are entitled to apply for this money.

Why is Grant Money Available?

Private Foundations

Private Foundations are usually formed by wealthy corporations, trusts and individuals to benefit individuals and small business using FREE GRANT money.

These organizations are required to distribute 5% of their total assets each year to maintain tax exempt status. Each foundation targets certain segments of the population with specific needs, sometimes in certain geographical areas. Some grant money to businesses, others grant money to individuals like you and me to cover the costs of everyday living expenses. There is an extensive list of private grant foundation in the American Grant Provider Directory and we connect you to databases and resources where you can find thousands more. You can begin accessing these foundations online today via the directory!

Federal Programs

Every year, the US Government distributes billions of dollars to businesses and individuals.

Politicians understand small business is fast becoming the lifeline of the American Economy and will employ millions of people in the future. A vibrant small business sector means a vibrant tax base. The federal government will distribute grants to average people to help them start their business. The federal government also distributes grant money to men, women and children to help them attend college and to help with everyday living expenses and unforeseen expenses such as medical expenses. The UncleSamsMoney Grant Directory categorizes all these programs for you. Simply choose any applicable category and link directly to the grant making agency.

State Programs

Every state is a major source of financial aid assistance to small business and education programs. Each state has a vested interest in promoting small business and educating their residents. More small business results in increased tax revenue. Educated residents attract businesses.

The UncleSamsMoney grant directory connects you directly to your states grant making agencies.

Get Free Access from

HERE

